Lord, will you teach us how to pray?

By: Mark Russoniello,
Special Contributor

As parents, we naturally want the best for our children. We want to protect them from anything that could harm them: war, violence, abuse, bullying, hatred, conflict, social media denigration. We've even invented terms to describe well-meaning but somewhat excessive protective inclinations – “helicopter” and “bulldozer” parent. Mothers and fathers realize that we cannot keep our kids wrapped in bubbles all their lives. They will be exposed to negative influences beyond our control. And many recent studies show the current generation of children is far more anxious, frustrated and distressed than any prior.

What should we do? What can we teach our children to help them cope with a world that shakes their confidence and can too often leave them in despair?

The answer is simpler than we may realize: We can teach them to pray.

Jesus' first followers often witnessed him going off by himself after long periods of ministry, healing, and teaching.

They asked him, “Lord, will you teach us how to pray? (Luke 11:1-4)” In response, Jesus gives them – and us – the Our Father. In Jesus' native Aramaic language, he begins with the word “A b b a .” Loosely translated, the word means “Papa” or “Daddy.” Jesus wants us to experience an intimate, loving trust in our relationship with God, and a nearness that helps us feel safe.

It is always a good thing to teach children the standard Catholic prayers (Our Father, Hail Mary, Glory Be, Act of Contrition, the Rosary, etc.), but more than that, children need to be taught that prayer is the way we communicate and build relationship with God. Through regular prayer children come to experience the nearness of God more meaningfully and learn to trust that God will always show them the best way to live.

This is what St. Paul meant 2,000 years ago when he wrote, “Pray constantly.”

Prayer does not require the “right words.” Scripture tells us that even when we don't know what to say, the Holy Spirit prays for us “with groanings that cannot be expressed in words” (Rom 8).

When we teach our children to pray from their hearts, they find that prayer creates a safe space for them to express honestly their deepest thoughts and cares. They learn they can tell God whatever they may be feeling, without fear.

They can even tell God they are angry with Him. It's OK. God has big shoulders. Sometimes all they might need to say in prayer is, “God, please (help, guide, support, show) me.”

When children can live in the trusting, loving space that prayer fosters, the problems of the world and their own environments become less daunting.

When they know God always remains close to them, they understand that they don't need to be afraid. As St. John wrote: “Perfect love drives out fear.”

If you want to help your children feel safe and secure, teach them to pray.

MEN'S DIVORCE SUPPORT GROUP

Are you seeking support from other men going through the life change of separation and divorce, but no one in your immediate circle of friends seems to understand the challenges you are facing?

This Men's Group is being offered to help men discuss the problems of separation, divorce, family, children, and topics unique to men from a man's point of view.

Topics like loss, self-value, identify, staying healthy, dealing with adult children, being a father, faith, dating, blending of families, dealing with your former spouse, resentment, blame, guilt and the need to overcome the anger you are feeling.....will be discussed.

This is being run by men who are divorced who have stepped forward and seen the need for this program. They want to provide support and get support from other men that are experiencing the same struggles of managing this life change.

If this sounds like something that can help you, please join us!

It doesn't matter if you are contemplating divorce, newly separated, going through the divorce process, recently divorced or divorced many years. You could have been married 4 years or 40 years, it doesn't matter, this program has help for everyone that attends!

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

Like flies at a garden party, sickness and death are never welcome. But nevertheless, they hover over our lives on earth and often descend just when it is most inconvenient. When they hurt the most, interrupting our plans and exposing our vulnerability. Gospel stories like these tell us that Jesus knew all about such, but that He had that wondrous divine ability to take away their sting.

Case in point are the two stories told us by Mark today that exemplify his trademark "sandwich" device to make his point. Interesting enough, the two stories have several points in common: female sufferers, the number 12, and vocabulary ("faith," "fear," "sane," "daughter," etc.) Yet the style used points to a separate origin.

The story of Jairus' daughter is told in short sentences in the so-called historical present tense. The story of the woman with the flow of blood is told in longer sentences and in the imperfect tense.

What is more important for us is to note the faith of both Jairus and the sick woman and the reaction to both of Jesus. First Jairus. He was a Jewish official, privy to all the gossip about Jesus and the opinions of fellow Jews of rank. Yet here he is, put in the position of a beggar for Jesus' help for his sick little daughter. He was a desperate father, a figure we can identify with. He was willing to reach out to anyone who could help him.

Then we have the woman, likely alone in the world with no husband to help her, and not able to get sufficient help from any doctors for 12 years. So, she too reaches out to the one person she knew could help her.

In the case of Jesus, He appreciates the faith behind the pleas of both persons and responds. Jesus is the calm in the midst of chaos and is in full control of both situations and of the divine power that He bears. How essential it is to have someone calm and in control at times like these if we are to get a handle on things. What does Jesus say to Jairus? Something that we all should remember: "Do not be afraid; just have faith."

Jesus' words bring me right back to the homily Pope St. John Paul II gave at his inaugural Mass when he too proclaimed: "Do not be afraid!" The circumstances were different from these two scenes 2,000 years ago. But the world situation in 1978 was much like it is in 2024, one of confusion and sickness of spirit. So, we need to hear Jesus say it loud and clear once again: "Do not be afraid; just have faith!"

What's your "faith quotient"? What's mine? A question we need to ask and answer. Not just when we are sick or facing death, but right here and right now.

Here are two thoughts about faith that I found:

1. "The greatest act of faith takes place when a person finally decides that he or she is not God."
2. "Not as many people have lost faith in America as you might think. An awful lot of them sign up for a 30-year mortgage."

God love you and keep the Faith!
